The mixer combines air with inlet propane to lower its BTU content to that of Natural Gas. As such, the combined 'propane-air' or synthetic natural gas (SNG) that is produced will allow equipment using the SNG to function the same as it would with Natural Gas. An SNG vaporizer allows a seamless transition from Natural Gas to mixed propane.

From: John T. Mitchell <mitchell[at]interactionlaw.com> Date: Wed, 12 Apr 2006 18:00:31 -0400. While I agree with that black letter principle, I guess the question is when does a thief cease being a thief? In a case where neither the state nor the victim of the crime have any cause of action for theft (even though they each had one at one time), public policy for "quieting title" would seem ...
