The Flavian dynasty was a Roman imperial dynasty, which ruled the Roman Empire between 69 AD and 96 AD, encompassing the reigns of Vespasian, and his two sons Titus and Domitian. The Flavians rose to power during the civil war of 69, known as the Year of the Four Emperors. After Galba and Otho died in quick succession, Vitellius became emperor in mid 69. His claim to the throne was quickly challenged by legions stationed in the Eastern provinces, who declared their commander Vespasian emperor in

At the end the situation in Roman Empire was stabilized by Vespasian (69 – 79 AD) who managed to impose himself as a solo ruler. He became the founder of the Flavian dynasty, which was named by his middle name Flavius. He ruled wisely and like Octavian Augustus, in order to gain an illusion that someone else (Senate!) had great authority.
